

Mrs. Roy Davis Hostess At Party Honoring Mrs. Miller, Recent Bride

MRS. ROY DAVIS was hostess during the past week at a prettily arranged party in honor of Mrs. W. R. Miller, a recent bride. The reception room of the Davis home was thronged with guests in which and white units and numbers of friends called, bringing a shower of beautiful presents. Those present were Mesdames H. A. Bethune, J. D. Bethune, L. A. Bethune, Ethel Atkinson, M. Burrows, W. H. Pugh, A. Parsons, E. Cowan, J. D. Ruby, J. E. Ruby, M. Hamlin, W. R. Buchanan, Miss Fannie Wood, Miss Edith Ford and Miss Jennie Parrack.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller were united in marriage in Las Cruces on June 12. The bride, who has lived in this city all of her life, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Bethune. Mr. Miller has business interests here, where they will make their home.

One of the pleasant affairs scheduled for the social calendar of the week is the lawn party to be given by the White Cross guild of St. Clement's Episcopal church on Monday evening at the home of Dr. Fuller Smith, pastor of St. Clement's, 503 East California.

Lieut. Vincent Conrad, 24th Infantry, Weds Miss Melba Esch, Of Kansas City

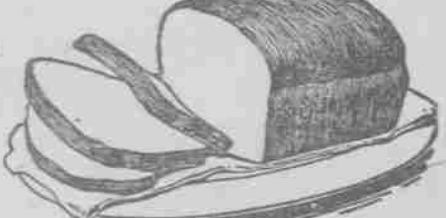

LIEUT. VINCENT CONRAD, of the 24th U. S. Infantry, with station at Columbus, N. M., and Miss Melba Esch, of Kansas City, were united in marriage at St. Paul's Lutheran church in this city, June 14.

Mrs. Conrad is the daughter of a prominent business man of Kansas City and is a graduate of the fine arts department of an eastern college. She was a popular member of the younger society set of Kansas City. Lieut. Conrad is a graduate of the United States military academy, West Point.

Army Affairs.

A number of beautiful pictures recently have been presented to the Red Cross convalescent home at Fort Bliss by Mrs. Al Kraft. They include an original by Charles Dana Gibson, one of his exquisite studies in black and white. Among others are included an artistic proof of Millet's "The Angelus" and a very lovely copy of Raphael's "Madonna."

Interesting Group Of Girls In New Club

THE interesting coterie of members of the younger society set who form the membership of the B. S. club. The club was recently organized and its divisions consist of innumerable happy affairs, with no regular meeting dates. The club occupies Col. H. L. Newbold's box at the horse show this afternoon at Fort Bliss. White tams and sport clothes form the smart costume of the girls who recently, with a group of army officers, attracted much attention at the roof garden at Hotel Paso del Norte, their attire inspiring many complimentary remarks. Reading from left to right, standing: Misses Katherine Dick, Marion Howe, Frances Oppenheimer. Second row, left to right, Misses Nancy Beall Williams and Margaret Neff. Third row, left to right, Misses Lenna Robinson and Mildred Rogers.

Demureness Denied By Neck and Sleeves

By GERTRUDE HERESFORD.

NECKLINES are square, as in the model illustrated, and sleeves are cut out to show the shoulder point on many of the newest summer gowns. This dress takes the unusual methods of denying its demureness expressed by Quaker gray crepe meteor. The kimono blouse may be cut separately or in one with the front panel that overlaps the three knifed ruffles of crepe meteor that form the skirt. Many similar skirts are made with a panel back and front and with the ruffles inserted at the sides only. A tie belt of crepe holds the fulness at the waist line. The hat is French blue and ostrich trimmed.
